"OUT OF REACH"

COMMUNITY MAGAZINE

Issue No.19

MARCH 1978.

EDITORIAL

One of my monthly problems is whether to use this space as an introduction to the magazine or for my own pontification on the 'bees' I readily get in 'my bonnet'. This month I am going to stick my neck out and say how lucky I think we are to have only a 12p in the pownd increase in the rates (subject to confirmation by the full council on February 28th). Many of you will know that a number of people in Cambridgeshire have been campaigning against cuts in the education service and particularly in the number of teachers. Those of us involved have been delighted to hear that, despite this minimal rate increase, the education budget has been so arranged that there will be no teacher redundancy in Cambridgeshire during the following year. I am sure that other readers will similarly welcome the news and I applaud the work of some members of the Education Committee towards this end. It is unfortunate that other expenditure, such as the capitation allowance has to be severely restricted, but this is something which parents at least might be expected to help out with, and might indeed be pleased to do. However much we complain at the tax and rate levies, I think we do very well from our welfare state.

(I shall be delighted if the above stimulates some letters to the magazine).

Happy St. David's Day.

J.J.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Sam Mitchell whose miniature poodle won a first and a second place at Crufts Dog Show this year.

Welcome to the Fowles family who have recently moved into Snib End.

PARISH NEWS

A Planning Application has been received from Mr. McCormick for an extension and alterations to 21 Great Lane, which was approved.

It has been brought to the attention of the Parish Council that E.C.D.C. roadmen have been leaving rubbish on the road after cleaning out a 'grip' in the Delph End area. The Council have taken steps to have this matter reported to Mr. Kisby of the Public Highways Division in order to get this cleaned up.

Unfortunately, someone still appears to be depositing rubbish on Straight Drove. P-L-E-A-S-E could those responsible refrain from doing this? It is so upsetting for those of us in the village who are really trying to be tidy-conscious to see such deliberate thoughtlessness being displayed.

11.1.1978. Mr. Warren's Lecture. A Summary

Mr. Warren's research, concerning the history of Reach, has been carried out over some years. The following is an outline of his lecture taken from the script which he very kindly lent to me.

Historical records, said Mr. Warren, are frequently misleading as the result of faulty or biased translations and the lack of careful checking of these translations. True records of local history, for example, are obscured by the bias of censors from Cambridge, Oxford and Ely.

At the time of Magna Carta, and for a long time before, England, Scotland, Wales and all Ireland together made up Angleland. Reach, including Cambridge, Grantchester, most of the villages now in Cambridgeshire, and Exning and Newmarket was known as Anglesea. The city was most important until 1814-15 when it was wrongly included in the 'Enclosure of Parishes' Act.

Mr. Warren dates the first invasion of Angleland by the Romans at 2 B.C., not 55 B.C. Because of the difficulty of landing flat bottom boats on the South Coast, this invasion failed. It was followed about 2 A.D. by a successful landing at Anglesea via The Wash. Reinforcements arrived and Claudius' army started to build the Roman Road, which is now beneath the Devil's Dyke. Penetration northwards began and control was established by about 35 A.D. Claudius was succeeded by Platipus who pressed south from Anglesea, road building en route. contd. over Roman settlements at Cockley Clay, Camplace (now Castle Hill), Cambridge, Barnwell and Grantchester were the result of off-course landings from the Wash.

Mr. Warren argues that the Roman invasions were not altogether a bad thing for the Anglelanders. Chiefs would have suffered but slaves would have been no worse off and the Romans did bring with them education in Latin writings and the Christian Religion.

In A.D. 135 Agricola marched North and built Hadrian's Wall. The original name, 'Thule', means the end of the earth, implying that the wall was for demarcation rather than defence.

In 350 A.D. the Romans were recalled, but, of course, much Roman blood and influence remained. The country was now ruled by overlords of 'kings' in small kingdoms. The church at Anglesea was the centre of Christianity and other churches were created from there.

After the 1066 invasion by the Normans, Anglesea was renamed 'Rec' meaning 'to reach'. The Normans moved south from Anglesea to meet Harold at the Battle of Hastings. However, William established his centre at Reach. At this time some of the monks and scribes from Reach removed themselves to a sise at the bottom of what is now Kings College lawn. They took with them brazil clunch to build their dwellings (now long covered over by the river bank and part of the lawn). This brazil clunch was also used to build Ely Cathedral in 1106.

Between 1640 and 1660 cam-place became cambridge; a bridge was built across the river at Magdalene Street. Thus documents referring to Cambridge and dated before this time are suspect. e.g. The Rogation Day Charter was dated 1201 but technical investigation suggests a date of nearer 1861. The name 'Rogation' is after Rogartus who lived in the 4th century and, together with his brother, became a missionary and martyr. Mr. Warren has written to the Pope asking him to create Rogartus a Saint to represent Reach and the Christians of Angleland. Rogation Day ceremonies were held at Reach, according to the Charter until 1404 when the church here was knocked down by the order of the Bishop of Ely. The Bishop of Reach and his assistants were sent to Anglesea Abbey at Lode, and valuable possessions were removed, e.g. the coronation stone went to Reach Place, London (renamed Ely Place) and the 579 Bible is now in Corpus Christi College.

Scholars from Reach also went to find a second seat of learning at Oxford.

In conclusion then, the historical position of Reach, in Mr. Warren's view is :-

a) an important centre of old Angleland

b) the crucial invasion point

the centrepoint of Christian teaching and scholarship.

He also believes that Reach (including land around Exning and Newmarket) has a good case for independence, although personally he does not wish to retain this once the claim has been upheld by the Ministry of the Environment. Ho makes no claim to Kingship but has asked for recognition as the successor to Count Allen of Reach (murdered in Ely 1349).

During question time Mr. Warren suggested that the country would benefit from the reinstatement of the Queen as supreme and active ruler of the U.K. and that the digging of a canal from Ely to London would alleviate the erosion of the East Coast.

From the Vicar:

Good Friday

After much consultation it has been decided that Anglicans in our Deanery of Fordham might derive help from observing at least part of Good Friday together. To this end, therefore, there will be a service of one hour's devotion, probably in the form of hymns and meditations from 2.00 -3.00 p.m. in Burwell Church on that day.

Earlier in the day at 10.00 a.m. at Swaffham Prior, we shall be having Matins, followed by the first part of the Communion service, and a sermon, with Evensong at 5.00 p.m.

Reach Exhibition

We felt it might be a good thing, and appreciated by both villages, if we tried to mount an Exhibition of Old Reach in the church on Rogation Sunday, April 30th, and Rogation Monday, the day of the Fair, May 1st. Major Jones, of Gallions, Reach, (Tel 741191) has kindly undertaken the general oversight of this complicated, but we hope interesting and worthwhile enterprise, and any articles in your possession, of whatever kind, which you are willing to loan for these two days, and which you think might throw light on Reach's history, you are asked to place at his disposal. We also hope the exhibition will add a new element of interest to the ancient Fair. ×××××××××

Wisbech Flood Disaster.

I have received an appeal from the Chairman of the Ely Diocesan Board of Social Responsibility, the Archdeacon of Wisbech, for help for those who suffered so much personal loss through the recent floods. The appeal is supported by the Lord Lieutenant of the County and the Mayor of Wisbech, together with the Clergy of Wisbech, Cyril Leighton, and my predecessor, Robin Ellis. If you feel you can help in any way, would you please send your contributions to the Archdeacon at:

The Vicarage, Haddenham. Ely, Cambs.

You will be aware that the Government has offered massive assistance to those who have been involved; but only 3 of the loss will be covered in this way, and this is obviously where we can help with private subscriptions. The Board of Social Responsibility has donated £250 from its very slender resources.

The Meteorite:

The following letter, from the County Archivist, will serve to conclude what I hope has been found an interesting correspondence on this unusual subject:

'Unfortunately neither the parish registers nor any other records contain any mention of the event. Unfortunately the tithe account book of Dr. Martin Hill, which contains various information in addition to the accounts, was not begun until 1664. I have also searched our microfilm copies of the collections made for the history of Cambridgeshire by the Rev. William Cole, who died in 1782, but without success.

The event occurred when the drainage of the Fens as a whole had been attempted but had not been completed. I doubt whether anyone can say what the condition of Swaffham Prior Fen was at that time, but it is fair to suppose that the ground was softer than now even if not covered with waterthough the latter is made likely by the cloud of steam. We have vertical aerial photographic surveys of the area in 1949, 1962 and 1969 and possibly other dates since the war, though probably mo obliques. There are a few marks visible in the 1962 photographs which I have examined which might be worth investigation, but I feel that they should be considered by someone more practised in recognising meteorite craters before any ground investigation is made'.

By way of postscript perhaps I should just add, for the benefit of those who have found this correspondence of interest, the fact pointed out to me recently by Mr. John Norris, that the Vicarage in those days was Anglesey House, actually two vicarages in one, since the two priests looking after the two churches and parishes lived there, before their amalgamation in 1667.

FRIENDS OF THE SCHOOL NEWS

The St. Valentine's Dance held on Saturday 11th February appeared to have been thoroughly enjoyed by all those who attended although the weather and rival functions kept the numbers lower than expected.

Our grateful thanks go to the School Managers and those Friends who so generously donated the raffle prizes. Many thanks too, to Mrs. Harrison and her helpers for the substantial feast they laid on and to all Friends who assisted with decor, dispensation of liquid refreshment for our thirsty feet and helped with the task of clearing up at such a late hour.

'Decameron' worked hard for our pleasure and wish to thank all who attended (including our local Publican) for their enthusiastic jiving. The singers wish us well and we acknowledge a valiant 'never to be forgotten' experiment.

Next function: Friday March 17th. Easter Bingo at 7.00 p.m.. Any donations of Easter eggs will be gratefully accepted at the school. It is hoped to ensure that no child leaves completely empty handed, so even the tiniest eggs will be a great help. We do hope that we shall see as many parents as possible on the night so that all the children will have some help at hand.

Next Committee Meeting - Thursday March 2nd at 7.30 p.m.

A COUNCIL HOUSE PROBLEM

The Council Houses we have been politely told Outside are looking shabby and old. Our lawns and gardens we did tend with care But a path across them has appeared from we don't know where We put a hedge across the middle But why it kept dying to us was no riddle For people don't really care They just trample on things and leave them there We do not mind if you want to call But PLEASE PLEASE USE THE PATH DON'T JUMP THE WALL.

J.R. Parker.

THE STAINE HUNDRED

The next meeting of the Staine Hundred - the local history society will be on Tuesday 21st March, not Wednesday 22nd March, as previously announced. Michael Petty will talk about 'The Fen floods of 1947'; the meeting will be in the Lecture Room at Bottisham Village College, at 7.30 p.m.

BOTTISHAM YOUNG FARMERS CLUB

On 13th January, Bottisham Young Farmers Club was given a very informative talk on First Aid by Mrs. Maureen Clamp, the Youth Officer for Cambridgeshire Red Cross. The following week the members enjoyed a full length feature film entitled "Travels with my Aunt".

On 27th January, Mrs. Tudor gave a very interesting talk on Home Crafts, bringing along with her some of the many crafts that she does, for example, embroidery, leather-work, pewter-work, copper-enamelling and rug-making. As the speaker previously arranged for 3rd February was unable to come, the County Organiser for the West Anglia Federation of Young Farmers Clubs, came to talk to the Club, and on 10th February, the members challenged Cottenham Young Farmers Club to a General Knowledge Quiz which Cottenham just won.

$\hat{\hat{\mathbb{X}}}$ is a construction of the first TABLE TENNIS CLUB

Since last month we have played three of the stronger clubs in the league and, bearing this in mind, our results were very good.

We lost 7-3 to an unbeaten R.A.F. Lakenheath side and followed this by two very good wins - 6-4 at Beck Row and a 6-4 home win over Soham Baptists side.

Apart from the team results, I am very pleased with the progress that some of the junior players are making and I hope they continue to improve. (I am beginning to worry about my place in the team already).

Village Centre News

At our January Committee Meeting concern was expressed at the lack of support for live bands at some functions. These Groups are expensive and to cover their charge at least 50 people have to pay at the door.

It seems that in order to make events a success we need, 1) a larger village population and 2) a larger village hall, so after a lengthy discussion we decided to look for a disco that is prepared to play both popular and modern dance music and that also does not have too many flashing lights.

Contact has been made between the Committee and two dancing class teachers and if anyone is interested please contact me. The classes will consist of Modern Dancing and Jive and will be about 20p a session, with the idea of starting in the Autumn.

Reach Fair will be on May 1st and at present the Dog Show will be on Sunday April 30th, the Cycle Race May 21st.

John O. Robinson.

The Fork and Funch Evening held on 28th January was a great success. A roast pork supper with all the trimmings plus a glass or two of punch was enjoyed by all who attended and due to Mr. A. Johnson's kind donation of the pork a profit of £48.26 was made.

The Jumble Sale and Raffle held at Reach Village Centre on 18th February raised £18.05.

Thanks are due to Mrs. Rita Housden for the beautiful Gateaux she made to raffle - this was won by Mr. Derek Harrison.
